

OYSTER BAY WILL BE QUIET AS USUAL THIS SUMMER WHILE IT IS CAPITOL

Gossip About People and Things at Washington and National Affairs.

(From Washington Bureau, United Press.)

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Hands off; no interference with the campaign; no speeches to whooping political delegations; no trips into the provinces to help the Republican candidate.

This, in brief, is the attitude the president will maintain during the campaign, according to the emphatic assertion of his right hand man, Secretary Loeb, and if he proves a true prophet the coming summer at Oyster Bay will be just about as dull as it was four years ago when the president was running and Secretary Cortelyou as chairman of the Republican national committee was conducting the most hushful "gum shoe" canvass on record.

As during last summer and several summers previously, the president will not be "at home" to uninvited guests during the coming vacation. Those who wish to see the president must write or telegraph to Secretary Loeb or Assistant Secretary Latta, asking for an appointment. If they fail to do so and journey to Oyster Bay without an invitation to call, they will have spent their railroad fare and time, for nothing. The secret service guards stationed at Sagamore Hill will turn them back, even though they be men of the greatest importance in business or politics, and a fleeting view of the broad porches of the president's cottage will be all they will get of the executive presence. Of course there are a certain number of men who need no formal invitation and who are always welcome to cross the president's threshold no matter whether he is in Washington or at his home on Long Island. The members of his cabinet, Senator Lodge and a few others would be passed by the secret service detectives if they put in an appearance at midnight. But even these favored few would not go to Oyster Bay without first sending word of their intention. Secretaries Taft, Root, Cortelyou and Garfield, Attorney General Bonaparte and Postmaster General Meyer are pretty certain to pay the president two or three visits apiece during the three months he will be at his home, and Secretary Taft, granted he is nominated as Chicago, may be a more frequent visitor if the business of the campaign will allow him to make the trips.

If the president follows out his present plans he will leave for Oyster Bay on June 25 and will remain there until about the first of October. His summer offices will be located in the same place as last year and several years before, on the second floor of Moore's provision store, corner of Main and South streets, and his force of secretaries, stenographers, telegraphers and messengers will be the same as last summer.

International Etiquette.

Uncle Sam was scolded the other day by Secretary of State Root, behind the closed doors of the appropriations committee of the house. A report of the proceedings of the committee, just made public, shows that the secretary delivered a lecture on international etiquette in which he pointed out that this country's deportment toward other nations is capable of considerable improvement.

"We have been very much in the habit of sending invitations to foreign countries for all sorts of meetings and exhibitions here," said the secretary. "I think sometimes we have yielded to the importunities of people who are interested, without fully realizing that we cannot send an invitation without incurring an honorable obligation." He had come to the capitol particularly to get appropriations for this nation to participate in the Centennial Exposition at Quito, Ecuador; in the Pan-American Scientific Congress, at Santiago, Chile; and in the Pan-American Congress at Buenos Ayres. He is interested also in the appropriation of $500,000 for the Japanese exposition.

"If we invite people to come over here and make a success of undertakings that our people have an interest in," said Mr. Root, "we are bound to go and make a success of their undertakings; and every invitation we send involves a double obligation; one is an obligation to see that the gentlemen who come here in response to the invitation are properly cared for, and the other an obligation to appropriate the necessary money to return the compliment and send somebody there."

"We have been invited to Ecuador to attend three successive expositions and they have come and spent a very large amount of money for a small and poor state, and we are under an obligation to respond now that she is trying to do something to get herself into the swim and have people see what she has got and to enlarge her trade, and I think we ought to do it in pretty good shape."

The secretary will probably get $50,000 for this exposition.

Almost every day the average man wonders why he did such a foolish thing.

YOU may be so rich you don't care what you spend for clothes; you may need to consider the cost carefully. But you'll never be so rich, nor so poor, that you don't care what you get for your money, and how the clothes look.

Spend whatever you like here so long as you are willing to pay the price of having it good quality. At $20 and $25 we are selling some exceptionally good values in suits. They're ROXBORO and Hart, Schaffner & Marx goods; and there's nothing about them that isn't right.

We are showing so many browns that the variety is bewildering. Tans, grays, olives, greens, stripes of all kinds; hair lines, chalk stripes; you can't find or think of anything new we don't show.

Notice the display of hair lines and chalk stripes shown in our corner window.

YOUR hat ought to fit more than your head; it ought to fit your face, your clothes, your feelings. We do it all here for $3; either Ludlow or Imperial; the best hats in the country ever sold for $3.

A big line of $2 hats, smart in style, and in all colors. Stetson's at $4, $4.50 and $5; Knox, soft and stiff, $5.

The Dick Fowler got away on time this morning for Cairo with a big trip of freight and passengers. She will return at 9 o'clock tonight.

The Kentucky arrived yesterday afternoon from the Tennessee with two car loads of peanuts, twelve car loads of lumber and two car loads of mixed freight, the latter for the Paducah wharfbat. She went on to Brookport last night and unloaded her freight and returned this morning and is now taking on freight, preparing to leave for the Tennessee tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

The City of Saltville came out of the Tennessee last night at 9 o'clock almost blocked off with freight for St. Louis. She also had about 100 excursionists from Chicago, who are making the round trip on the Saltville. The George Cowling made two trips from Metropolis to Paducah and return, having good trips of freight and passengers each time.

The Joe Fowler was in from Evansville today with a big trip of freight and a number of passengers. She returned immediately to Evansville.

The John S. Hopkins will be the Evansville packet tomorrow morning. The Lydia failed to get away last night for the Cumberland, but left this morning after a tow of ties.

The Harvester arrived from St. Louis last night with four empty barges for the West Kentucky Coal company. The Harvester made a record trip this time to St. Louis and return. She was gone from her landing up the Tennessee only 92 hours. On her way to St. Louis she took a tow of coal of five pieces and one fuel flat. Ninety-two hours is the best time ever made to St. Louis and return by a towboat carrying a tow each way.

The Egan arrived today from Caseyville with a tow of coal for the West Kentucky Coal company.

The Royal had a good trip of freight and passengers each way on her trip between Golconda and Paducah today.

The Pavia left this morning for the Cumberland after a tow of ties for the Ayer & Lord company.

The Margaret got away this morning for the Tennessee after a tow of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tie company.

The Castalia, one of the Ayer & Lord towboats, broke a shaft up the Cumberland river yesterday afternoon and the Hosmer was sent up the Cumberland to tow the Castalia to Paducah to be repaired.

The Kentucky is having new stacks put on her today.

Allard Jones, chief engineer, and Joe Vick, his assistant, both resigned from the Pavia last night. Herb Vold will go as chief engineer on the Pavia.

Boss Berryman is holding the position as steersman on the steamer Dick Fowler.

The Reaper was inspected yesterday by Government Inspectors Green and St. John and was condemned on account of the legs of the mud drum being weak. The boat will be repaired immediately. The Reaper is a towboat belonging to the West Kentucky Coal company.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio, at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, not much change during the next 24 to 36 hours. At Paducah and Cairo, will rise slightly during the next 24 hours.

The Tennessee, from Florence to the mouth, will continue rising 12 to 36 hours.

The Mississippi, at Chester, will fall during the next 36 hours. At Cape Girardeau no material change tonight, then fall.

The Wabash, at Mt. Carmel, will continue falling during the next 36 hours.

A Remarkable Pedigree.

A Cowley county paper contains this advertisement of a cow for sale: "Some months ago I purchased from my friend, Hon. J. W. Irons, a pedigreed cow. I want to sell her owing to the rheumatism in my left leg, caused by her kicking at a fence post and striking me. When I first purchased her she was very wild, but I have succeeded in taming her so that I can keep through the corral without her tearing the gate down. To a man who is a good Christian and does not fear death, she would be a valuable animal. But I want to sell her to someone who will treat her right. She is one-fourth shorthorn, two-fourths hysena and the balance just ordinary cow. She will be sold cheap for cash. —C. M. Scott, two and a half miles west of Arkansas City, Kan."—Kansas City Star.

"Does anybody around here make a success of farming?"

"Yes," answered Farmer Coffman. "Old Joe Struthers does. He sold his farm and is puttin' the money out at interest among us fellers."—Washington Star.

Supplemental Enumeration.

Parents or guardians within the city limits who have children between the ages of six and twenty years, you are entitled to all the privileges of our splendid public schools, in order that we may draw our share of the state school fund it is absolutely necessary to have the name of every child, white or colored of school age living in the city. It may be possible that the enumerators elected by the board of education have missed some children who should have been listed.

It is presumed that parents or guardians know whether their children have been properly listed. If not will you kindly report same to either of the undersigned within the next week.
